

We'reGreen

Show them your true colors.

Your customers want to know what you're doing for the environment. Let them know you use 100% renewable, sustainable cotton drapery linings.

"Going Green" is becoming a very important issue in today's marketplace. It takes the effort of every person to preserve our planet and sustain our natural resources. If each of us offers a small contribution, we can make a huge difference.

At Hanes, we are offering a broad selection of "green" drapery linings.

Premium Linings

Classic Napped
